London, acted as a stimulus in today's stock market. The peristent drives by the bears against special stocks, which was a feature of the trading for some time, a feature of the training for some time, was included in consequence the apparent change of front by these interests was reflected in substantia acquences in Sugar, People's Gas, Tobacco, Brooklyh Transit and Manhatian. The buoyancy exhibited by these properties exerted a healthful influence upon the general raffroad list, which was consesquently sugmented by the execution of fairly large buying orders in the Vanderbill properties. The grangers received more attention than for a long time and compolicuous advances were registered in lend color to persistent rumors that a settlement of the transcontinental rate war may be forthcoming. Evidence of commission house purchases airo developed a brisk covering throughout the list. Some of the high priced investment staires responded in a noteworthy extent to a moserate inquiry notably Pullman, which figured for a rise of 2 points. The market at intervals during the day displayed stagnation, but prices nevertheless forged upward. Operations for arbitrage account were in fairly large volume, and included issless of most of the international favorites. The offerings from this source, however, were readily absorbed.

A development which has been regarded with considerable gratification by substantial interests has been the growing expansion in railway and miscellaneous bonds which, in a measure, rediscts the general healthful tone of finances. Opersalons in this department embraced an variety of mortgages, with de-the issues of reorganized prop-vy. The aggregate transactions 1,000.

Stocks at London.

New York, June 21. The Evening Post's New York, June 21.—The Evening Post's London financial cablegram: The stock markets here were quice and atendy to-day with a general feeling of relief that the long 19-day account is drawing to a close. Americans were good, with some demand for Union Pactic and some recovery in B. & O. There was little business, however, with not much support from New York.

The last of the commencement exercises for this season were held yesterday when six young women were graduated from the Sacred Heart acad-The exercises, if possible, were even more elaborate and interesting even more elaborate and interesting than in previous years. The Sacred Heart academy fills a place in Ogden educational matters peculiarly its own, and the city is justly proud of this institution. Its pupils are by no means of one particular class or creed, but the school is liberally patronized by those who wish to give young ladies advanced study in useful subjects, supplemented with culture in somewhat advanced study in sectal sources are plemented with culture in somewhat advanced and artistic subjects. The assembly hall yesterday was crowded to the doors when the programme began. Everything moved with the precison of a trained military organization of the present delays and everything the present delays and tion. There were no delays and every-thing seemed to be done by the pupils themselves without suggestion from the teachers. Maybe back behind the the teachers. Maybe back behind the scenes there was a directress or two to give words of command, but for all the public could see the pupils went through with every exercise without a word of prompting. They marched to the platform, arriving just at the proper place at the proper time, and each did the particular part assigned to her with well nigh faultless case and grace.

The decorations and the general tenor of the exercises were patriotic in every sense. The national colors were artistically draped about the platform, while pictures of Admiral Dewey and General Miles occupied places of Miss Corey gave an eloquent, poetic, yet practical sermon on the sweetness and the power of the songs that are never sung, the high resolves and noble aspirations that are never voiced, of singers who die with all their music in them. The essay was written in excellent verse and its delivery was enhanced by graceful, timely gestures which added to an easy, graceful, the county in which this action is brought, otherwise within thirty days after sorvice, and defend the above entitled action; and in case of your fallure so to do, judgment will be rendered against you according to the demand of the compilaint.
